PUNAHOU PREP. HANDIWORK SHOW DRAWS CROWDS

Those who have seen the exhibition handwork of the eighth grade students of Punahou Preparatory school are of the unanimous opinion that it is one of the best ever given. The variety of articles exhibited is unlimited and there is everything from a relief map of the Panama canal to a plate full of divinity fudge to be seen by those who take the trouble to walk down into the basement of the prep building.

Besides the members of the school a large part of the students from Oahu College have ventured to go the rounds and pass their opinion on the things in the exhibition room.

It is the general opinion that the most unique and best exhibition is Donald Larnack's relief map of the Panama canal. The map is about four feet square and besides the country around about the canal he has apparently gone to considerable trouble to build miniature locks to illustrate the great project in detail.

Miss Clemence Gifford's divinity fudge proved one of the most popular exhibits. There were a number of cakes which looked as tempting as the candy and for this reason they were placed in what the teachers considered a safe place—the office.

Fred Peterson and Johnson Bond made a photograph for the show and those who have heard it play declare it to be the real thing.

Franklin Richardson had an interesting exhibit in a self-filling wash tub. The idea was good and the tub and self-filler well built. Mark Wall's chain was the cause of much comment, while Curtis Turner's miniature surf board, "Dartaway," and Oliver Emerson's electric shocking machine were two of the best exhibits.

Roy Graham and William Noble had some neat pieces of woodwork on exhibition; Roland Gay a first-class larlat, and Howard Johnson a well-made candle holder.

The girls' exhibits included all sorts of fancy work, paintings and household articles. Miss Florence Denison's painting of an Indian maiden was one of the most popular of the paintings. Miss Gertrude Blake's place cards, on which were painted butterflies, were also very good. There were some excellent paintings in black and white, the work of Miss Carol Reed and a well drawn picture of a dog by Miss Kuumanu McWayne.

There were a number of good baby dresses and various pieces of needle work. Miss Elizabeth Hobdy, Winifred Brown and Alice Hore all had fine exhibits in this line.

The exhibit will last through today when the students will gather up their toys for the Easter vacation, which starts next week. School will open again April 6.

Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, at the meeting of the territorial board of health yesterday afternoon reported that the diphtheria situation in Honolulu is improving rapidly and is no longer considered serious. The Oahu Cemetery Association was granted permission to use a tract on upper Nuuanu avenue, on the mauka side of the Ewa portion of the present cemetery, for burial purposes. The board also approved building permits for sewerage facilities on the McInerney residence tract division.

DEARBORN SAYS CONSUMER WILL PAY THE TOLLS

It will be the purchaser of every pound of merchandise imported into the Hawaiian islands who will be called upon to pay a share of the tolls imposed upon shipping passing through the new Panama canal, according to the opinion credited to President and General Manager George S. Dearborn of the American Hawaiian line, who is well acquainted with conditions in these islands, following his extended visit here three years ago.

In the statement reported to have been voiced by Mr. Dearborn in New York recently, he inferred that the toll question was not considered by his company when a few years ago orders were placed for the construction of eight additional vessels, in anticipation of the increased traffic that would be handled with the opening of the Panama Canal. He pointed out that the payment of tolls was of no material consequence to the steamship companies for the reason that the tolls were part of the operating expenses, and would be paid by the shipper. He said that the toll charge would probably not amount to more than 80 cents a ton, a very small part of the freight charge. The toll question, he said, was of interest to steamship companies only in so far as the slightly increased freight charge might result in a smaller tonnage of freight in the aggregate, but even in this respect, he thought, the difference of the volume of business as affected by the payment or exemption of toll charges was negligible.

Mr. Dearborn added: "I have stated my views to the congressional committees in Washington. The foreign vessels cannot engage in the coastwise trade anyway, so I don't see what difference the exemption of tolls can have, one way or the other. To my mind the Panama canal toll proposition is only an academic question, and has no practical business importance."
